

04.10.02 Kauffman Entrepreneurial Year (KEY) Program

Description

04.10.02 Kauffman Entrepreneurial Year (KEY) Program

The KEY program provides accepted students with the opportunity to devote one or two semesters, tuition-free, to the study and/or practice of entrepreneurship. Proposals may include internships, special projects, business plan development, research into various facets of entrepreneurship, or analysis of how culture and public policy influence entrepreneurial activity.

Interested students should attend an information session to learn about the program and the guidelines that are in effect. For more information, see: Center for Entrepreneurship.
