

06.02.04 MM Elective Course Restrictions

Description

06.02.04 MM Elective Course Restrictions

All courses taken for graduate credit must be at the graduate level, and numbered 200 or above. Without explicit permission from the Graduate Professional Committee, no more than four credits earned through Ensemble courses may be included in the program of study of a student in the MM program. Additional elective course restrictions are listed within the requirements for each individual major.

Policy for MM Students Matriculating in Fall 2007 or thereafter:

Graduate students are encouraged to explore courses offered in Eastman's Arts Leadership program. Only 200-level ALC courses that are cross-listed with another department (e.g., MTL 504/ALC 222) may be taken for MM degree credit. These courses are subject to regular tuition charges.

Other ALC courses (400-level) may be elected by graduate students for non-degree credit free of charge. In such cases the ALP course may be used to bring the student to full-time status without incurring a tuition charge, but these courses do not fulfill graduate degree requirements.

Students who matriculated into their current MM degree program prior to fall 2007 may still take any ALC course at the 200-level for elective credit toward their degree.
